NEW TORONTO U.J.A. CHAIRMAN: Theodore Richmond.

Richmond To Head 1964 U.J.A. Drive

Theodore Richmond, president of Superpack Industries, has been appointed general campaign chairman of the 1964 United Jewish Appeal of Toronto, it was announced last night at the 26th Annual Meeting of the United Jewish Welfare Fund of Toronto held at Beth Tzedec Synagogue.

Mr. Richmond has been active for many years in the Furniture Division of UJA campaigns, serving as chairman and co-chairman. For the last four years he also was a member of the Advance Gifts team.

Chairman of the Men's Service Council and a member of the board of directors of the United Jewish Welfare Fund, Mr. Richmond was part of the 1960 UJA Study Mission to Europe and Israel. He is a member of Oakdale Golf and Country Club, the Primrose Club, Beth Tzedec Synagogue, Eglinton Lodge of B'nai B'rith and Palestine Masonic Lodge.

In announcing the appointment, Noel Zeldin, speaking for Mark A. Levy, chairman of the UJA Administrative Committee, said the selection committee consisting of past campaign chairmen "had no trouble coming to unanimous agree-chairmen "had no trouble coming to unanimous agreement.

As a matter of fact, this gentleman was such a logical heir to the UJA chairmanship that he was the sole nominee."

Interviewed following his appointment, Mr. Richmond stated that his immediate task is to secure the strongest leadership possible for the various divisions of the campaign.

Mr. Richmond will head the Toronto U.J.A. Study Mission which leaves in January for points in Europe and Israel. He is now in the process of selecting the members of the Mission which will be limited to 20 men.

Expressing his thanks for the honour of being appointed U.J.A. Campaign Chairman for 1964, Mr. Richmond stated:

"I know I will have everyone's co-operation in the sobering responsibility of raising the funds that will save lives overseas and maintain the vitality of the Toronto Jewish community. With your help I hope to make next year's campaign the most successful in our history."

ROME ERASES "JEWISH GUILT"

ISRAELI MINISTER OF JUSTICE TO BE WELCOMED BY LEGIONNAIRES

A special welcome awaits Dr. Dov Joseph, Minister of Justice of the State of Israel, who is flying to Toronto to address the Toronto Zionist Council Dinner honouring Robert H. Soren, Monday evening, October 28.

The dinner will take place in the main Banquet Hall of the Beth Tzedec Congregation. It will be held in association with the Israel Bond Organization of Toronto and will also be attended by members of the Jewish Legion of this city who fought under General Allenby in Palestine during World War I, alongside Dr. Joseph. Such interest and enthusiasm has been evinced throughout the Toronto Jewish community to the forthcoming visit of Dr. Joseph that the invitation list has been extended to include leaders of the legal fraternity, judges, several professional groups, and members of Ajalon Lodge.

Guest of honour, Robert H. Soren, is one of the community's most outstanding and active leaders whose career of communal service spans more than four decades. Born and educated in England Robert Soren came to Canada while still a very young man and quickly rose to achieve top leadership positions in Zionist, Welfare and educational circles.

Combining a keen sense for the dramatic along with an intense devotion and dedication to Israel, Mr. Soren was responsible for two of the most effective demonstrations of support for Israel ever held in the city. At the conclusion of World War I, on the signing of the Balfour Declaration, Mr. Soren arranged for a mammoth parade which marched through the City of Toronto comprising every Jewish organization in this community.

When Israel won its War of Independence, Mr. Soren arranged for a mass meeting on behalf of the United Zionist Council in the Arena Gardens in Toronto which was attended by over 20,000 people.

Mr. Soren was instrumental in organizing the Jewish Legion for service in Palestine, and he was the second to join that group.

In addition to serving as President of leading Zionist groups in the city and Region, Mr. Soren also holds the distinction of having been Chairman of every Regional Convention of the Z.O.C. Central Division since 1939, and every National Convention of the Zionist Organization of Canada held in Toronto since 1940.

Chairman of the Arrangements Committee for the Dinner is John J. Glass.

VATICAN RESENTS "LEAK" OF NEWS ABOUT DOCUMENT

ROME, (CJN) — A declaraton that it is wrong and harmful to blame the Jews for the death of Jesus is ready for distribution as an official document to the Roman Catholic churchmen attending the Ecumenical Council.

The declaration goes on to assert that hatred of and persecution of Jews is abhorrent to the Roman Catholic Church, and that those guilty of either merit the strongest possible repudiation by ecclesiastical authority.

(The Vatican the next day officially denied that the declaration is "ready", but the CJN learned that this was done only because the "leak" had been resented).

The document barely a page long, is the work of the Secretariat, for the Promotion of Christian Unity. This is headed by Augustin Cardinal Bea, who was born in Germany 82 years ago.

Historic in its implications, the document is called "De Catholicorum Habitudine ad non-Christianos et Maxime ad Judaeos." Technically, it is the fourth chapter of a schema, or theme, on ecumenism.

The Latin may be translated as "On the Catholic Attitude Toward non-Christians, and Especially Toward Jews."

The inclusion of a section on relations between Roman Catholics and Jews in the schema on ecumenism is in itself unusual. It is introduced by a brief preamble on liberty of conscience.

- The church owes its origins to Judaism, with which it shares the heritage of the Old Testament.
- Roman Catholics should never forget that Jesus was a Jew, and his family and the apostles were Jews.
- The guilt for the death of Jesus falls more properly on all humanity than on the Jews. (A general declaration on the guilt of humanity, without specific reference to the Jews, was made by the 16th-century Council of Trent, which lasted 18 years with interruption).
- The church disapproves of the anti-semitism of the past and of the present. It has an abiding affection for the Jews and takes the strongest possible view of those who have hatred or contempt for them, or persecute them.

Assuming the declaration in its present form should become an official statement of the Council, the ramifications would be worldwide.

Roman Catholic liturgy and teaching would be affected. In effect, there would be, at the highest level of the church, a reversal of the dread sentiments of Matthew, 27th chapter, 25th verse (Roman Catholic, or Douay, Bible).

In the previous verse, Pilate says: "I am innocent of the blood of this just man. Look you to it."

The 25th verse follows: "And the whole people answering said: "His blood be upon us and upon our children".

Izvestia Uncovers Jewish Criminals

NEW YORK, (CJN) - The Government newspaper Izvestia said this week that the Soviet security police had uncovered a large private enterprise ring in Moscow headed by "persons with Jewish names," reports the N.Y. Times.

Two "Jewish ringleaders," identified simply by their last names as Roifman and Shakerman, took over a rehabilitation workshop of a psychiatric dispensary in the Krasnaya Presnaya borough of western Moscow and operated it for their own profit according to Izvestia.

JEWISH BOOK MONTH STARTS NOVEMBER 10

A three-fold interpretation of Biblical wisdom applied to modern society will be given in Toronto on Sunday evening, November 10, by three of Ontario's leading Rabbis in a symposium marking the opening weekend of Jewish Book Month 1963.

Speaking on "The Living Bible" in the Jewish Public Library building, 22 Glen Park Avenue, at 8:15 p.m. November 10, will be Rabbi Bernard Baskin, of Temple Anshe Sholom, Hamilton; Rabbi Stuart E. Rosenberg, of Beth Tzedec Synagogue, Toronto; and Rabbi Walter S. Wurzburger, of Shaarei Shomayim Synagogue, Toronto.

This year's observance of Jewish Book Month will run from November 8 to December 8, under the general theme of "The Living Bible".

THE VATICAN AND JEWS

Several years ago, I was visited by a man who had been through the horrors of the Warsaw Ghetto, somehow survived and, later on, managed to fight in the Polish uprising against the Germans under General Bor — and survived again.

He was one of those pleasant, interesting nudniks who are the inspiration of many a writer. For instance, I had to explain to him why Sholem Asch "saw" Jesus in the Warsaw Ghetto — and why HE did not.

Asch already was dead. Thus I even couldn't get rid of my visitor by saying, go ask Sholem Asch why he wrote a story about Jesus as a Jew in the Warsaw Ghetto. All I could tell him was, "You know it is fiction."

The man looked up and responded, "You hit the nail on the head. It IS fiction. All these writings about the Catholic Church helping the Jews in Poland is fiction, pure invention. Why, even the Pope himself remained silent.

"I remember ,the good man continued, the time a friendly priest in a small parish in southwestern Poland asked me why the Pope didn't issue a pastoral letter against those who were helping the Nazis."

Of course, this was only rhetorical.

I don't know whether the new play, The Deputy, which allegedly criticizes the role of Pius XII during World War II, should be shown or not. At any rate, no one has the right to censor theater or literature merely because someone or some group feels offended. On the other hand, however, the fact that the Vatican did not perform its duty under the reign of Pius XII remains clear beyond doubt: it definitely did not.

The most atrocious crimes perpetrated by the Nazis occurred in Poland, a Catholic country. Germany itself, in fact, has a very influential Catholic population. A public denunciation of Hitlerism could have changed the tide. Nay, should we forget that, despite the fact that Hitler personally was a Catholic, he never was excommunicated by the Pope?

Pius XII was known during World War II as the pro-German pope. At that time, it meant — the pro-Hitler pope. He certainly did not make any effort in public to dispel this image.

Because of this sad and, for us, tragic experience during World War II, it is most encouraging to see that the present Pope Paul VI is changing the attitude of the Catholic Church towards the Jews. In fact, the news from the Vatican — that the Ecumenical Council will issue a declaration that it is wrong and harmful to blame the Jews for the death of Jesus — is a revolutionary step which undoubtedly will create a new atmosphere in the field of Catholic-Jewish relations.

For centuries the teaching of children in some Catholic schools about "the guilt" of the Jews has been basically the source of religious antisemitism in Europe and Latin America. It is good to note, finally, that Rome is moving with the times and realizes at last that in our day the unity of all believers — Christians, Jews and Moslems — in the battle against aggressive atheism is the command of the hour.

The story goes that Stalin, in his cynicism, had once asked how many battalions the Pope represented. The Russian dictator did not appreciate the spiritual power of the Vatican.

In Rome now, we can see that some Catholic leaders realize the Jewish people too represent more than battalions, in the military sense of the word. Nothing can conquer a united front by the great religions if the prejudices of the past are eradicated — and when everyone will be free to worship according to his belief, when people who worship separately act in unison whenever moral issues are involved.

The spirit which religion represents is powerful only when it exerts its ethical force — when it fears no one but God.

WELCOME PROMINENT SOCIAL SCIENTIST. The Leadership Development Program of the United Jewish Welfare Fund of Toronto held the first in a series of four luncheon meetings last week at the Primrose Club. Guest speaker was Dr. Marshall Sklare, second from left, director of the Division of Scientific Research of the American Jewish Committee in New York. Greetings are extended here by Dr. Ralph Halbert, left, and Herbert H. Solway, right, co-chairman of the Leadership Development Program; and Abbey Lipson, second from right, chairman of the luncheon series, which is entitled "Personalities in Jewish Life." The next session will be held November 21, when Dr. Judah J. Shapiro, secretary of the National Foundation for Jewish Culture, will be the guest speaker.

CHIEF RABBINATE CRISIS SETTLED

JERUSALEM, (JCNS) — The crisis over the Chief Rabbinate election appears to have been solved with the appointment on Sunday of Dr. Avraham Nachon, a Jewish Agency official of Italian origin, to replace Mr. Fridia Suaris, the National Religious Party Knesset member, on the rabbinate's election committee.

Some months ago a crisis boiled up when the Mapai Deputy Speaker of the Knesset, Mr. Israel Yeshayahu, threatened to resign in protest against the composition of the committee, which was selected by Dr. Zerach Warhaftig, Minister of Religious Affairs.

Mr. Yeshayahu protested in particular against the tendency to eliminate sympathisers of the late Rabbi Jacob Toledano.

When a deadlock followed, the National Religious Party agreed to introduce some changes in the committee and to appoint Mr. Nachon in place of the nominee of their own party.

As a result, Mr. Yeshayahu has agreed to withdraw his resignation, and it is now hoped that the committee will set about selecting a new Chief Rabbi.

SYRIA ARRESTS JEWISH CITIZENS

PARIS, (JCNS) — Syrian police last week arrested eight or ten Jews near the Turkish border for "planning to cross illegally" into Turkey, it is reported here by reliable sources. It is also reported that there has been a marked deterioration in the situation of the small Jewish community (about 4,000) still existing in Syria.

They are prevented from leaving the country on the ground that, if they were allowed to do so, they might go to Israel. The rich members of the community are allowed to make business trips to Turkey or the Lebanon, but only on depositing a large sum of money with the authorities as a guarantee of their return. Their families are not allowed to travel with them.

In the past there have been a number of trials of Jews charged with trying to leave Syria illegally, and they received long prison terms. The group arrested last week are being held in the central prison in Damascus, and it is feared that they, too, will be put on trial and charged with "Zionism". Three-quarters of Syria's Jews live in Damascus. Their president is Mr. Farah Romano, who was appointed with the approval of the Syrian authorities. Some members of the community are strongly critical of his administration. The Damascus community is concentrated in the city's Jewish quarter and allowed to leave it only with the police permit. They are subjected to continuous harassment and arbitrary arrests are common.

POINT OF VIEW

Comedian Morty Storm admits he does not know much about ballet:

"I went to one show and saw a girl standing on her toes, so I figured "Why don't they get a taller girl?"

MOTHERS' LAMENT

A neighbor described her teenage niece:

"She can talk on the phone for two hours — and that's when she gets a wrong number."

COMMON SENSE

Arnold Wesker, author of the hit play, "Chips With Everything," was guest of honor at a supper party in the home of Robert L. Livingston, according to Leonard Lyons. The host had a caterer serve Chinese food, complete with Chinese fortune cookies. Gary Bond, who has a leading role in the play, never had seen a fortune cookie. He swallowed it, complete with the "fortune". Bond took another cookie, opened it and read the "fortune" on the slip of paper. It read: Ignore first fortune."

B'NAI B'RITH

ANNIVERSARY OF GREAT MOVEMENT

The 120th anniversary since the founding of the B'nai B'rith in America probably will be marked next week at the conference of the Eastern Council when it meets in Hamilton.

B'nai B'rith — the Sons of the Covenant — have contributed in great measure to the promotion of the ideals of justice for which Judaism stands. It has helped fight prejudice and bigotry against all monorities. It has also written a glorious chapter in aid of the Jewish state.

Now we believe B'nai B'rith should turn more inwardly toward our own Jewish problems, especially in the direction of helping promote Jewish education which is the number one problem of North American Jewry.

JUSTIFIED CLAIM

AUSTRIA'S DEBT

The meeting this week in Toronto of Jews originating from Austria (who protested against the ridiculous "compensation" accorded Nazi victims by the present Austrian government) should arouse wide interest in our community.

From the start of the negotiations, the attitude of the Austrian government in compensating the victims of Hitler's terror has been that of ignoring the reality. Of course, one cannot accuse the present Vienna regime for the atrocities and the theft of property committed by the Nazi army. However, to say that the Austrians did not profit by what Hitler took from the Jews is nonsense.

No city during the Hitler reign was as Hitlerite and antisemitic as Vienna. The majority of its population cooperated enthusiastically with the Nazis in robbing the Jews. If there is justice — and if the present Austrian government believes in it — Austria should pay the compensation to the victims. That is the least it can do.

BIGOTRY IMPORTED

SOMALI SHENANIGANS

The strangest story of the week's news comes from Somalia in East Africa where on the weekend hundreds of Somali students rioted in front of the U.S. and Ethiopian embassies, stoning both these and the British embassy and leaving terror and destruction in their wake. The riots started when the Somali Radio Mogadishu reported that Ethiopian troops had crossed Somali territory and killed 3 Somali men. At the same time, the British announced they would not give in to Somali demands for a strip of territory from Kenya — which only exacerbated the rioters.

There seems to be evidence of some Russian influence, for Bill Stephenson of the Toronto Globe confessed he saved his skin by unheroically posing as a Russian (whereupon the mob lifted him on their shoulders with the cry, "Russo very good"!). Also two Americans escaped by pretending to be Egyptian teachers, which says very little for the Somalis' power of ethnic detection.

But what, the reader may ask, has this to do with the Jews?

This much: the very last sentence in the news story written by William Stephenson, reads:

"The rioters claimed the US is giving military support to a Jewish plot in Ethiopia to suppress the Somali language."

Truly a strange and extremely sad sentence to read in a newspaper more than eighteen years after the supposed destruction of Hitlerism! The Somalis, who obviously cannot tell a Russian from an Egyptian or American, would have even less success in identifying a Jew. Yet there is no hesitation on their part (or on the part of their mischievous advisors) to make use of the diabolical expression, "Jewish plot". The Jewish-plot-idea fizzled out in Prague, and in Moscow too, after the doctors were exonerated.

However discredited, there is someone — and it wouldn't be difficult to find out who — who has descended to selling this dangerous myth to the gullible Somalis.

Canadian Panorama

by Mordecai Hirshenson

Among the new faculty members at the University of Waterloo, in Kitchener, is a returning Canadian, Dr. Arnold Ages.

Professor Ages, a native of Ottawa, received his Ph.D. degree in Romance Language and Philology at Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. Like other sons of Ottawa's traditional-minded Jewish community, Dr. Ages' intellectual and academic advancement is no deterrent to his attachment to Jewish Orthodoxy.

The Kitchener Jewish community, incidentally, is showing a composition remarkably cosmopolitan. Among its members (aside from the usual couples from England and newcomers from Eastern and Central Europe) is an Irish couple, a medical doctor who is of the Indian B'nei Israel, and a young married woman whose distinction dates back to 300 years of Jamaican Jews.

"MIDDLE EUROPE" IN TORONTO

Toronto has from 300 to 400 Jews of Austrian origin living within its confines and about 600 German Jews — altogether approximately 1,000 Jews from Germany and Austria. There are about 600 Jews who have come from Czechoslovakia (which includes Jews from various language and ethnic areas like Slovakia, Bohemia-Moravia, and Carpatho-Russia).

Largest and most recent of the Central European element are the Hungarin Jews who number in the neighborhood of 4,000.

The Jews have various cultural, communal and religious organizations. The German-Austrians and others who are oriented to German language ways are organized in the New World Club. The main religious framework for these is the Congregation Habonim, a synagogue in the European Liberal tradition which is dedicating its new ground in the Sheppard-Bathurst area on Sunday, November 10th, coinciding with the 25th anniversary of Krystalnacht, the day in November 1938 when Hitler ordered the destruction of synagogues in Germany.

The Hungarians have the Toronto Hungarian Jewish Association. President is Eugene Verny, a native of Bratislava (Pressburg) Poszony (the diverse names of the town illustrate its multiple and conflicting cultures). There is a group of Liberal religious Magyar Jews which worships under Rabbi Sagon; other are associated with the Orthodox congregations of Rabbis Oelbaum and Klein, and some worship with the hassidic Rabbi Meir Grunwald. Other Hungarian Jews have "integrated" with the existing Jewish community and are attached to various other Jewish associations, fraternities, and synagogues.

This is the Central European factor in Toronto's Jewry, an element virtually absent a generation ago but which is making now a positive and constructive contribution.

JUDAISM "DIFFICULT", SAYS SOO TEACHER

Judaism has always prided itself on its clarity, its simplicity, and its freedom from theological mystification — a pure monotheism, unencumbered by the complex dogma and doctrine one frequently encounters in various religious cults.

However, Nathan Urbach, who teaches in the Sault Ste. Marie (Ontario) Talmud Torah, has a different concept. A Rosh Hashana feature article in the Soo Star says:

"The Jewish religion is a difficult one to understand with its theory of revelation and different calendar. Mr. Urbach feels this is the reason why there are not more Jews in the world "because it is so hard to understand."

Perhaps Mr. Urbach has never heard of Buddhism's doctrine of the transmigration of souls or re-incarnation (which it shares with Hinduism) or the Christian doctrine of Trinity and the Virgin Birth or the ceremony of eating the wafer and drinking the wine (representing the body and blood of Jesus respectively).

These doctrines — far from simple to grasp — haven't kept these religious from numbering their adherents in the hundreds-of-millions.

SOCREDS: CHIROPRACTORS AND CLERGYMEN

The Social Credit movement, to judge from its new slate of officers for Ontario, is running true to the traditional religious and occupational background of its adherents. The new Ontario leader is Wilmer F. Trelford, a chiropractor by profession (as is Robert Thompson, national leader, and numerous other prominent Socreds). Other officers are ministers of the various fundamentalist Protestant groupings of an evangelical nature: Pentecostal, Christian Memorial Alliance, etc. This group, incidentally, is the Ontario affiliate of Robert Thompson and Ernest C. Manning's official party in opposition to the Real Caouette-Neil Carmichael faction.

NOTES FROM THE PRAIRIES

Only one Jewish farmer has remained on his land in The Edenbridge area of Saskatchewan, once a thriving center of Jewish colonization.... There are 25 Jewish faculty members at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon.... Moose Jaw, once a center of more than 50 Jewish families, now has 25.... Samson Heilik, principal of Winnipeg's I. L. Peretz School, speaks Spanish fluently as a former resident of Argentina.... Ex-Baptist clergyman Tommy Douglas, who is national NDP-CCF leader, now has a Jewish son-in-law.

Thailand Is So Close...

Dear Editor:

Permit me to extend my compliments to you upon the outstanding quality of The Canadian Jewish News. Although its orientation is primarily Ontarian, its many areas of universal Jewish concern make it an important and eagerly awaited arrival at our home.

I was particularly intrigued by the column in the October 9th issue by Ida G. Cowen, entitled, "Simhat Torah in Thailand." Her mention of Mr. Gerson, the Russian Jew who was one of Thailand's earliest Jewish settlers, brought back interesting memories. For, you see some eleven years ago, Mrs. Gerson and her two sons spent some months in New York. I had the pleasure of teaching the younger Gerson lad two Bar Mitzvah portions; one that was read in New York and another that was read some weeks later in Thailand. The elder son was married during that same period in New York and we were privileged to participate in that Simkha as well.

Thailand is about 10,000 miles from Montreal, but your column made it seem close indeed. Thank you.

Reader Defends Nasser

Dear Editor:

Lise Jordan is to be congratulated for her honesty, a quality which is as rare as a snowball in hell among brainwashed Zionists, in admitting that the Arabs of Palestine have no claim "to land lost in a war".

This is, of course, the argument of the Communists in East Germany, the Communists in North Korea and the Zionist Communists in Palestine. This is an age-old edict of right-of-conquest and with this edict even the opponents of Israel can have no valid quarrel.

However, what is gained by conquest can also be lost by conquest, and this pattern of events in Palestine has been consistently followed for thousands of years.

Ex-Prime Minister Diefenbaker has recently returned from a tour of the Middle East where he had face-to-face talk with President Nasser. Prime Minister Pearson obtained his Nobel Peace Prize for his peace-keeping efforts in the Middle East.

I would suggest to Mr. Pearson, Mr. Diefenbaker and the Canadian Zionist community that if they wish for continued peace in the Middle East, they invite the most wise, enlightened and popular statesman in the Middle East, President Nasser, on a state visit to Canada. Here in our traditional role as a neutral, we could most effectively ensure justice for the displaced Christian and Moslem Palestinian Arabs.

the lively arts — theatre - music - films

by D. COHN

● Seems as though the hootenanny bug has bitten everyone. Latest victim is Masmid, the senior class yearbook of New York's Yeshiva College, which will stage a benefit hootenanny next month.

● Victor Borge, eminent pianist comedian, businessman, carries the most serious face one has ever seen. "I guess my face reflects my emotions," he says. "I take life very seriously even though I am a humorist. I consider humor the truest reflection of man and life itself. You can't create humor. Humor is a medium with which you create, like the brush to the painter, the chisel to the sculptor. You use it to create."

Borge takes his music seriously, but he sees the absurdity exercised by some musicians when they play. "I take advantage of everything musical that occurs. For instance, when I rise from the piano, I might push the stool back and the legs scraping the floor might make an "A' sound, maybe a B-flat."

He was a child prodigy and was concertizing at the age of eight. "I felt good with people, and am happy to report the audiences smiled back."

As a concert pianist, Victor was extremely nervous; when he played Chopin or Beethoven, his hands would shake before the concert, and there were those sitting in front like dragons waiting for a mistake. He started making comments to calm himself. He remembered De Pachmann: he would turn from the keyboard after playing a selection and say: "If that isn't good enough, I'll do it again."

Thus, in the course of years, he developed Comedy and Music. The physical things he does in the show are not slapstick. He falls off the piano bench when playing the opening chords in the Tchaikovsky B-Flat Concerto, which is realism. Actually, he once saw a serious pianist do it. The musicians in the symphony orchestras with whom he plays all but explode with laughter. They are his best audiences because he does the things they know and understand so well.

● The Arab League Boycott Office has informed the Italian singer Marino Marini (who is not Jewish) that his name has been added to the black list "because of his relations with pro-Israelis and his help to Zionist organizations." The ban means that Marini will no longer be able to give concert tours in Arab countries as before, and that his recordings will no longer be sold there.

● Jerry Lewis' son Gary

● For an album of Piatigorsky playing Bloch's 'Shelomo,' photographer Art Kane found an ideal cover-photo subject, a bearded man at an Old Folks Home. Kane needed permission to use the photo, and received approval from the head of the home who at first tried to impose three conditions: 1. Mention the name of the home; 2. mention the old-man's name; 3. the purchasers must agree not to play the recording on the Sabbath. Number three finally was waived.

● Can a girl with a name like Bathsheva Siegal ever make the Hollywood grade? yes, says Choo Choo Collins, whose real name is Bathsheva Siegal. "When I began singing at the age of six, I changed it — for professional purposes — to Charlotte Siegal. At age 12, I tired of this name and changed it again to Charlotte Carole Siegal, and then shortened it to Charlotte Carole. When I first broke into New York show business, I shortened it again to Lotte Carole, and then did a complete switch and became Carol Collins. Two years ago my singing teacher told me 'You move real fast.... like a choo choo train.' So I became 'Choo Choo Collins,' figuring this was a name night club and movie fans would be sure to remember."

● Eli Wallach, co-star of "The Victors," began his career during the depression. His parents encouraged him, he said: "They figured that if I was out of work, I might as well be an actor. An actor out of work still retains a degree of social acceptance."

....● Jan Peerce will guest-star at the Paris opera next season.

● Jean Pierre Aumont sent flowers to Jean Copeland, subbing for Vivien Leigh in Tovarich, and told her "Mazel tov".

Emil Cohen In Toronto

To star Bond-With-Israel evening: Famous entertainer Emil Cohen.

A Bond-with-Israel Evening featuring renowned Anglo-Yiddish entertainer Emil Cohen will highlight the participation of Toronto Women's ORT in the current Israel Bond Campaign. The event will take place on Sunday evening, November 3rd, in the showrooms of I. Kramer & Associates, and will be attended by ORT members and their husbands.

Guest star Emil Cohen is returning to Toronto to appear before ORT members following a highly successful week-long series of appearances here last month, when he performed for numerous B'nai B'rith Lodge and Chapter meetings, fraternal groups, and Women's Division events. Star of 'Grossinger's' and 'The Concord', Mr. Cohen made a multitude of new Toronto friends through his delightful program of anecdotes, songs and stories.

On the occasion of the "Bond with Israel" Evening, Toronto Women's ORT will once again demonstrate their dedication for the cause of Israel through support of Israel Bonds, for by ensuring an economically sound and secure State of Israel, ORT projects are also materially strengthened.

Co-Chairman of the ORT Bond Committee are Mrs. Nicholas Munk and Mrs. Sydney Applebaum who head a committee including President, Mrs. M.B. Manilla, Mesdames H. Bader, D. Bader, M. Bluestone, D. Brenneis, E. Clairmont, G. Drutz, S. Easser, T. Fialkov, M. Kaye, J. Katzman, E. Kimel, A. Margel, J. Ostroff, R. Perry, A. Rapp, I. Rodan, A. Rosen, B. Rotish, I. Shifman, J. Singer, and K. Yasney.

SERMON FOR THE WEEK

THE GUIDING HAND

Yea, I uphold thee with My victorious right hand (Isaiah 41. 10). For I the Lord thy God hold thy right hand (Isaiah 41. 13)

The symbol of the hand is one of the most potent in the Bible and Jewish traditional literature to suggest power. The wondrous works of God are attributed to the strength of His right hand. The act of creation is described in terms of God's mighty hands moulding the universe and fashioning the character of man, its goal and culmination. Of man, too, both the good and the evil he does are said to be the work of his hands.

Every range of human experience is covered in the gestures made by hands. What more effective way is there of depicting niggardliness than the image of the closed fist? The hand can be used as a forbidding barrier, coldly elevated in front of the face to token of snobbish superiority, waving away people of lesser standing, airily dismissing others as of little account.

Placed against the mouth, the hand produces the stentorian roar of the bully, issuing commands to bludgeon into submission. Placed against the ear, it can suggest supercilliously that the person addressing us is not speaking as loudly or clearly as he should. The hand of violence raised in anger against others or striking them in enmity, the mailed fist, the hand griping the threatening sword, all remind us that hate and the will to dominate can grow ruthlessly in the human breast.

Sometimes in Jewish teaching the hand of Esau is contrasted with the voice of Jacob. Israel's contribution is said to be in the field of moral and religious ideas and the speech which gives expression to them — the study of the Torah, the eloquence of prophetic pleas for justice, the melodious tones of prayer and worship. But the hand of Jacob must always be ready to further spiritual ideals in the world of action.

Many are the functions of the true hand controlled and directed by the good heart. The hand of friendship is extended to all but particularly to the lonely and grief-stricken. The helping hand is outstretched to give hope and confidence to the down-trodden and oppressed, assisting them to raise themselves from the dust. The open hand of charity and human kindness extends succour to the needy and unfortunate. The handclasp of confirmation shows that a man keeps his word no matter how tempting it is for him to break it. The beckoning hand of welcoming cheers the outcast and stranger. The hand of guidance enables the strong to help the weak, the gifted the untalented, the clear-sighted the blind.

A literal interpretation is given by the Midrash to the Psalmist's words, that God is a shadow on man's right hand. Between God and man there exists a reciprocal relationship resembling the manner in which man's shadow moves when he does. When man smiles his shadow smiles. When he frowns his shadow frowns. When he opens his hand his shadow's hand is opened. When he closes his hand his shadow's hand is closed. A profound truth is expressed in this metaphor.

God's beneficence is extended to all, but for it to be truly effective it must find its parallel on earth. The more men themselves practise acts of mercy, kindness and basic human decency, the more there is among them of God's blessing. That is why the man with open hand and heart is, in the words of the mystics, the channel through which God's goodness flows, and why the prophet speaks of God's hand reaching out to grasp man's hand to lead him in the paths of blessing and peace.

SERIOUS BUSINESS: Samuel Zeldin (right) co-chairman, and Harvey Wolfe, an associate chairman of Toronto's 1963 United Jewish Appeal Cash Collection campaign, studying a report describing the situation of Algerian Jewish refugees in France.

ALGERIA REFUGEES NEED AID

CALL FOR IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF OUTSTANDING UJA PLEDGES

A report showing that 15 months after the influx of more than 100,000 Algerian Jews into France, only 20 to 25 per cent could be considered adequately housed and employed, was released this week by John R. Devor and Samuel Zeldin, co-chairman of Toronto's 1963 United Jewish Appeal Cash Collection Campaign.

"The massive subsistence and training program for North African refugees of the Joint Distribution Committee in France, a beneficiary of the 1963 United Jewish Appeal campaign, will help an additional 20,000 to become self-supporting in the next year," they stated. "The future of the remaining 55,000 persons hangs in the balance at present, since jobs and housing — the two critical factors — are rarely to be found in the same locality."

"Here is a clear mandate to the Jewish community of Toronto to provide the cash that is so desperately needed to absorb these unfortunate refugees," they continued. "By paying 1963 UJA pledges now we can make certain there will be no delay in resettling the thousands who had to flee for their lives."

Mr. Devor and Mr. Zeldin also pointed out that organizations in France operating with subventions from the Joint Distribution Committee met 80,000 requests for welfare services of various types for North African settlers. They noted that "this is proof of how vitally necessary our contributions are to the health and well being of people in distress."

The report also indicated that Italy is becoming increasingly important as a center for transmigration of Jewish refugees now leaving eastern Europe and North Africa to resettle in Israel, France, North America and Australia. Some 2,500 migrants are expected to pass through Rome, Genova, Trieste and Naples in the next month or so enroute to countries of final destination.

Mr. Wingold reported on the progress of the fund raising. He stated that campaign figures to date were considerably ahead of those reported on the same date for the previous year. This, Mr. Wingold continued, was due mainly to the enthusiasm of the canvassers and the popularity of the honoree. He expressed the hope that the canvassing would continue in the same spirit.

Guest speaker at the Negev Dinner will be Rabbi Dr. Milton Aron, national president of the Jewish National Fund.

REDS CLOSE TWO MORE SYNAGOGUES

LONDON, (JCNS) — Two more synagogues in Russia are to be closed by the authorities, one at 103 Tchefpyona Street, Tashkent, and the other at 20 Tashkentskaia Street, Alma in Kazakhstan.

Eviction orders have been served on both on the ground that the buildings are private property.

Community leaders in both towns have submitted appeals to higher courts and protested to Government officials.

BUT... OPEN SYNAGOGUE IN SIBERIA

LONDON, (JCNS) — The municipal authorities of Novo-Sibirsk, the administrative centre of western Siberia, have assisted their Jewish community in finding a new synagogue premises in a modern quarter of the city. Together with the new synagogue there will be a bakery for matzot and a small lodging for Jewish visitors.

The change in the synagogue's location is due to the fact that the crowded centre of Novo-Sibirsk, where the old synagogue was situated, has been set aside for redevelopment. These and other facts about life in Novo Sibirsk are contained in a lengthy article that appeared recently in a Jewish Communist newspaper published in the U.S.A. Since the Second World War, the Jewish community of Novo-Sibirsk has steadily grown, the correspondent writes. This is partly due to the influx of Jews, from Poland, the Ukraine and western Russia, who escaped to the Siberian city, before the advancing Nazi murderers.

NEW JNF TORONTO PRESIDENT — Nat Hurwich, who was elected Toronto Jewish National Fund President at the last annual meeting. At the same meeting, J. I. Oelbaum was elected honorary treasurer and Jacob Adler, honorary secretary.

AMERICAN HEAVY WATER FOR ISRAELI ATOM PROJECT

HAIFA, (JCNS) — Four tons of heavy water from the United States Atomic Energy Commission arrived here for the Technion's Nuclear Engineering Department.

The heavy water, valued at $200,000, was loaned to the Technion under the Atom for Peace agreement between Israel and the U.S.A. The Technion has also requested the loan of three tons of natural uranium.

The two materials are needed by Israel to train future Israeli engineers to operate nuclear power stations. The United States will make periodic checks to ensure that the water is being used for peaceful purposes only. No time limit are been set for its return.

Israel herself is capable of producing heavy water but the U.S. price is far lower because of mass production. The Weizmann Institute is producing another type of water with heavy oxygen atoms. Large quantities are being exported, as international demand for research for this type of water is great.

Meanwhile, the Technion has announced that construction will start next year of its Nuclear Centre, financed from the gift of £1,000,000 made by the Harry and Abe Sherman Foundation, of Cardiff.

Sip this wine...
memories will come flooding back

At the next shabbat evening meal at the next simcha, perhaps tomorrow night . . . sip a glass of Mazel Tov. This is a wine you'll 'remember'. It's a wine that will bring back memories of other wines you have sipped, of other Friday evening meals, of other Yom Tovim.

Mazel Tov is made, like the other wines you remember, of Concord grapes, grown on the sunny slopes of the Niagara Peninsula. It is a richly honest wine . . . a wine of memories.

Although Mazel Tov is made strictly "Kosher l'Pesach", it is available all year 'round.

100% CORN OIL MARGARINE
HAS THE HIGHEST RATIO OF POLYUNSATURATES TO SATURATED FAT

It contains only pure corn oil, nature's finest, most desirable vegetable oil. This margarine is low in saturated fat. In fact, of all leading margarines, Fleischmann's has the highest ratio of polyunsaturates to saturated fat. That's why it's ideal for modern diets. Ask your doctor about its benefits.

Tastes so delicious, so naturally-good, you'll be surprised to learn it's margarine! Spreads smoothly even when it's just out of the refrigerator.

it's Kosher!

FRANKEL ENGLISH EDITOR TO SPEAK HERE

Now in Canada, Mr. William Frankel, editor of the London Jewish Chronicle, will be guest speaker at the opening lecture of the Shaarei Shomayim Institute for Adult Studies, which will take place on Tuesday, October 29th, 8:30 p.m., in the Social Hall of Shaarei Shomayim Synagogue. His theme will be: The Future of European Jewry.

Mr. Frankel received his LL.B. at the University of London and was called to the Bar, Middle Temple, in 1944. He became editor of the London Jewish Chronicle in 1958, after having served as its general manager for three years. Mr. Frankel served as: secretary of the Mizrachi Federation; member of the Board of Deputies of British Jews (1934-43); president of the University of London Law Society; London representative of the American Jewish Committee (1954-58); member of the executive and council of the United Synagogue (1957-58).

David Satok is chairman of Shaarei Shomayim's adult education committee; David E. Newman, co-chairman.

TORONTO HADASSAH LAUNCHES 100% ISRAEL BOND PROJECT — Presidents and Israel Bond Chairmen of all Toronto Hadassah Chapters met at the home of Mrs. Gabriel Alter, over-all Hadassah Bond Chairman, on Tuesday evening, October 15, to officially launch their 1963 Israel Bond program.

Special interest was sparked throughout the leadership ranks in the Achievement Charts designed to record the participation of individual chapters, and their members in the 1963 Israel Bond Campaign. Target this year is "100% Participation" whereby every Hadassah member will be enrolled as an Israel Bond purchaser. Guest speaker, Mrs. Raphael Wolfe, presented a lucid and informative address on the specific needs of Israel in opening up the Negev for new settlement and industrial development.

Mrs. Irving Posluns, Women's Division Bond Chairman, outlined the operation of Bond Clubs which have proved to be a highly popular feature of Women's Division groups.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK
By RUTHIE

They say, like father, like son. Well, in our house, that's no exception. Whenever I complain to my mother-in-law about something that my husband does which aggravates me, she always tells a story about his father.

"Noo," she sighs resignedly, "you'll get used to it. You can't help it, so take it the way it comes. It's a nature, you can't make them over. He's just like his father.

"You think I don't know how helpless they are?" she wisely continues. "But what can you do? You can talk till tomorrow, and it won't help. So learn to live with it."

"Just like, for instance," she goes on, "when we go to the country. Up till the last minute I keep nagging, what does he want me to pack for him? So every morning he says, don't worry; he'll pack himself tonight. And I wait until the last minute, then he says, 'Just throw in maybe two shirts.'

"So how can I pack two shirts when he changes every day? And in summer, yet, when it's so hot. So I take a dozen but don't tell him.

"After two days, he asks for another fresh shirt. I remind him he wanted me to pack only two shirts, I haven't another one.

"Then, when I prepare pots and pans, he says, 'Just one for milkhig (dairy) and one for flaishig (meat). Why such a big production?'

"But he forgets he likes to eat.

"Akh," she waves her hands in frustration, "after so many years, you stop listening to them. So much wind."

The other day, I learned what Ned's mother means.

He was, as usual, in a rush to get someplace.

'Where are my keys? I can't start the car."

He ran from room to room as though someone were chasing him with a beebee gun. "Did you see the keys?" his voice rose in a crescendo.

"How should I see them," I retorted, annoyed. "You'd lose your head if it wasn't stuck to your shoulders."

"Well, it's your fault."

"My fault! Huh, look who's talking! Everytime he can't find anything, it's my fault."

"Sure, whose then? You finger everything. The house has to be so clean, everything must be in its exact place, you can't stand leaving something around."

"Listen, Mr. Smarty, one more crack like that. . Anyway, I did not see your keys. Period."

After he had gone, in a cab, and I had simmered down, I figured,

"Poor guy, he's under pressure, he doesn't know what's doing with him. I'll have a look."

I shut my eyes tight and prayed to Papa's and Mama's souls (may they rest in peace), "Please, Mama, please, Papa, if you're watching, lead me already to those keys. Or else we'll all throw a fit."

Is there really a supernatural? I walked to the desk, took one glance — there were the keys right on top of the cigar box.

I laughed and laughed and laughed hysterically.

"Go on," I said to no one in particular, "laugh it out. Get it out of your system. Because when that lummox gets home . . ."

I waited at the door, ready to pounce. It was two hours till he arrived home. But it seemed like two minutes, I felt so smug about what I'd say.

"Walk over to the desk!" I ordered in my sternest voice, hoping it didn't crack.

"What for?"

"Just do as I say."

He did as I said.

"Now look."

"So I'm looking."

"Look hard."

"So I'm looking hard."

Eureka! His eyes popped. They spotted the keys where he had left them.

Sheepishly, "Will you please forgive me?"

"Not on your life!" I was in my glory.

"Aw, come on. What's a little mistake?"

"After you blow your top and I have to live on aspirin?"

"I won't do it again. I promise."

And so it goes — till next time.

MELAVAH MALKA TO FEATURE JAN BART

The participation of many fraternal groups throughout the community in the Toronto Israel Bond Drive this year has added further strength and vitality to the growing Bond family in Toronto," stated Lawrence Shankman, Campaign Chairman, in announcing hundreds of new Bond purchasers in the current campaign.

The Zaglembier Society will launch their Israel Bond effort at a festive "Melavah Malka" to take place at the Labour Zionist Centre on Saturday evening, October 26th. Guest star of the evening will be renowned entertainer, Jan Bart, who has toured the world and appeared in more than eight hundred cities, to raise investment dollars for the industrial development and expansion of the State of Israel. Born in Warsaw, Mr. Bart came to North America in 1930 after receiving a scholarship in music at the Warsaw Conservatory. Star of his own radio and TV shows, he is also a popular recording artist whose records have sold in the millions of copies.

In charge of arrangements for the Zaglembier Society event are Co-Bond Chairman, Al Pomocnik, and Zvi Ferens.

B.Z. ROSENFELD MEMORIAL

HAMILTON (CJN) — A Memorial evening for the late B. Z. Rosenfeld, who was well-known in the Hamilton Jewish Community as an active worker for the Histadrut Campaign, was held on Monday, October 14, at the Beth Jacob Synagogue.

The following took part in the Hazkara: Rabbi Weiner, Maxwell Sauder, chairman of the Histadrut Campaign in Hamilton, Jacob Egit from Toronto and Bernard Morris, field director of the Histadrut Campaign.

The memorial prayer was recited by Cantor Zimmerman.
